

CARLOS GEMORA, AICP SENIOR PLANNER/PROJECT MANAGER

As a senior planner at Sites Southwest, Carlos Gemora provides the team with experience in interjurisdictional mediation and negotiation, stakeholder engagement and facilitation, project and program management, and the resolution of technical, multi-party problems involving economic, legal, cultural, and political challenges.

Key elements to Carlos' mediation and facilitation work involve the identification and articulation of each party's concerns and priorities; the distillation of complex issues into actionable and constructive movement forward; and innovative, robust problem-solving. As a trained and ethical mediator attention is always given towards impartiality, confidentiality, and the maintenance of trust between involved parties.

As a land use planner and former public servant, Carlos additionally understands the technical, political, and organizational challenges faced by public entities and how to assist in thinking about long-range and strategic efforts to improve communities.

BACKGROUND AND EDUCATION

Bachelor's Program in Municipal & Urban Planning; The Evergreen State College

Master's Program in Regional Planning; Cornell University

SPECIALIZED PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCE

AICP #36259

REPRESENTATIVE PROJECTS

- Infrastructure Development - Stakeholder Engagement & Facilitation, Santa Fe, NM
- Public Property Disposition & Management Agreements, Santa Fe, NM
- East Lohman Development Plan, Las Cruces, NM
- Santa Fe County Affordable Housing Plan
- Tucumcari Comprehensive Plan
- Affordable Housing Incentives, Santa Fe, NM
- White Rock MRA Plan, Los Alamos, NM
- University Boulevard MRA Plan, Albuquerque, NM

SITES
SOUTHWEST